Chris, you are a very sweet and cute girl. I have enjoyed going to school with you these past 3 years. I hope we will remain friends for a long time. Best Wishes with you and David.
Love Rhonda Jackson
"72"

Chris,
Even though I haven't had many classes with you, or had a chance to get to know you very well (I hope I will this year) I can tell you are a wonderful person with a good personality.
I know you have all the qualities that make a great friend.

Never forget what a really great school we have and all the really great times we've all had here.

Good luck to you and David and may God bless you both with all you ever want in life.

"I AM A PART OF ALL THAT I HAVE MET"

The theme of the 1971 Munin and of all education is that everyone is the sum of his experiences. Besides the many vicarious experiences that a high school student meets in books, there are the all important social relationships that also teach.

When class election day comes, electioneering students discover they have to be elected. Mitchell Chaney (right), Student Council president, checks the student registration list.

Other students who have been physically affected by those they have met across the scrimmage line are the famed Lowndes Vikings shown here at football camp before the '70-'71 season opened.

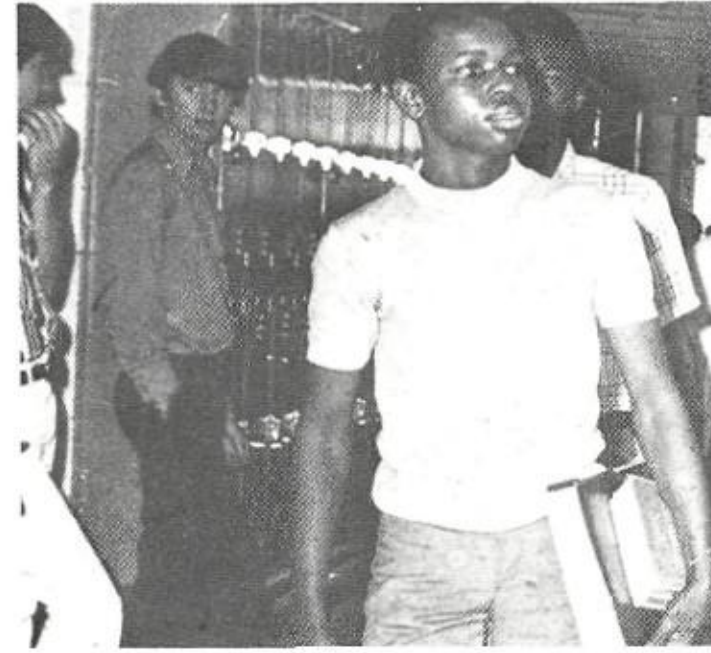

Below, some members of the Student Coordination Committee give the peace sign that symbolizes their success in easing strained relations that occur in any vibrant social situation. At left, that same spirit of cooperation is shown in the art classroom.

EVERYDAY EXPERIENCES ADD UP

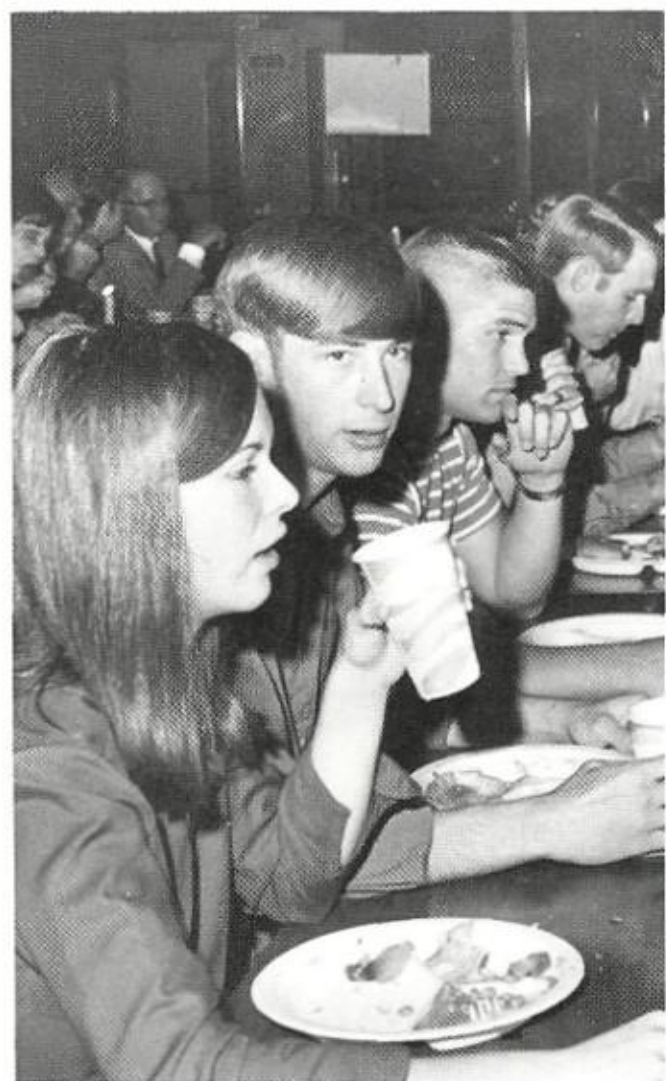

Freedom and responsibility are symbolized in the flag that hangs in most classrooms at Lowndes. This freedom is balanced with responsibility assumed by almost all students as they meet, mingle, and move purposely from class to class. When that responsibility slides, the authority of rules, administered by those who share the human condition, must and does restore order out of threatened chaos, man's persistent enemy. It is these experiences represented by the buying of supplies at the bookstore and obeying the directions to move on to class that help students grow from day to day.

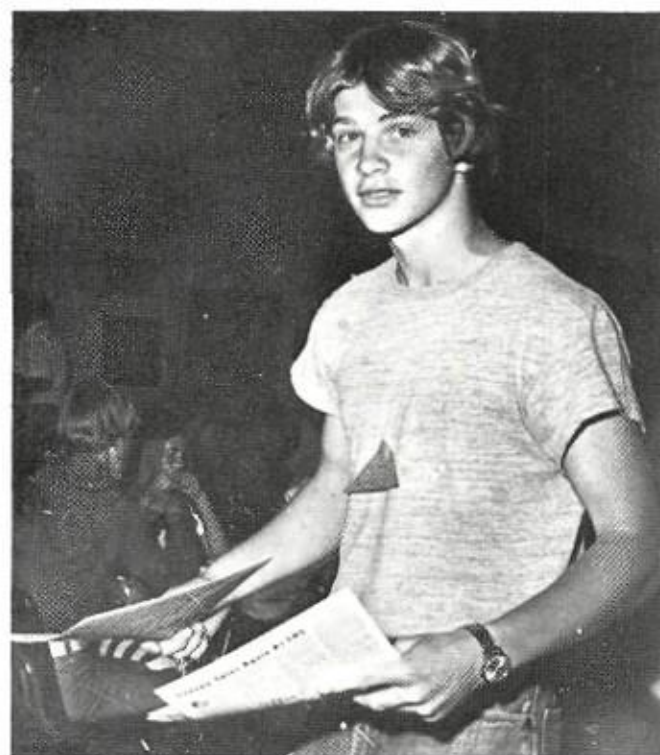

EXCITEMENT LEVEL VARIES

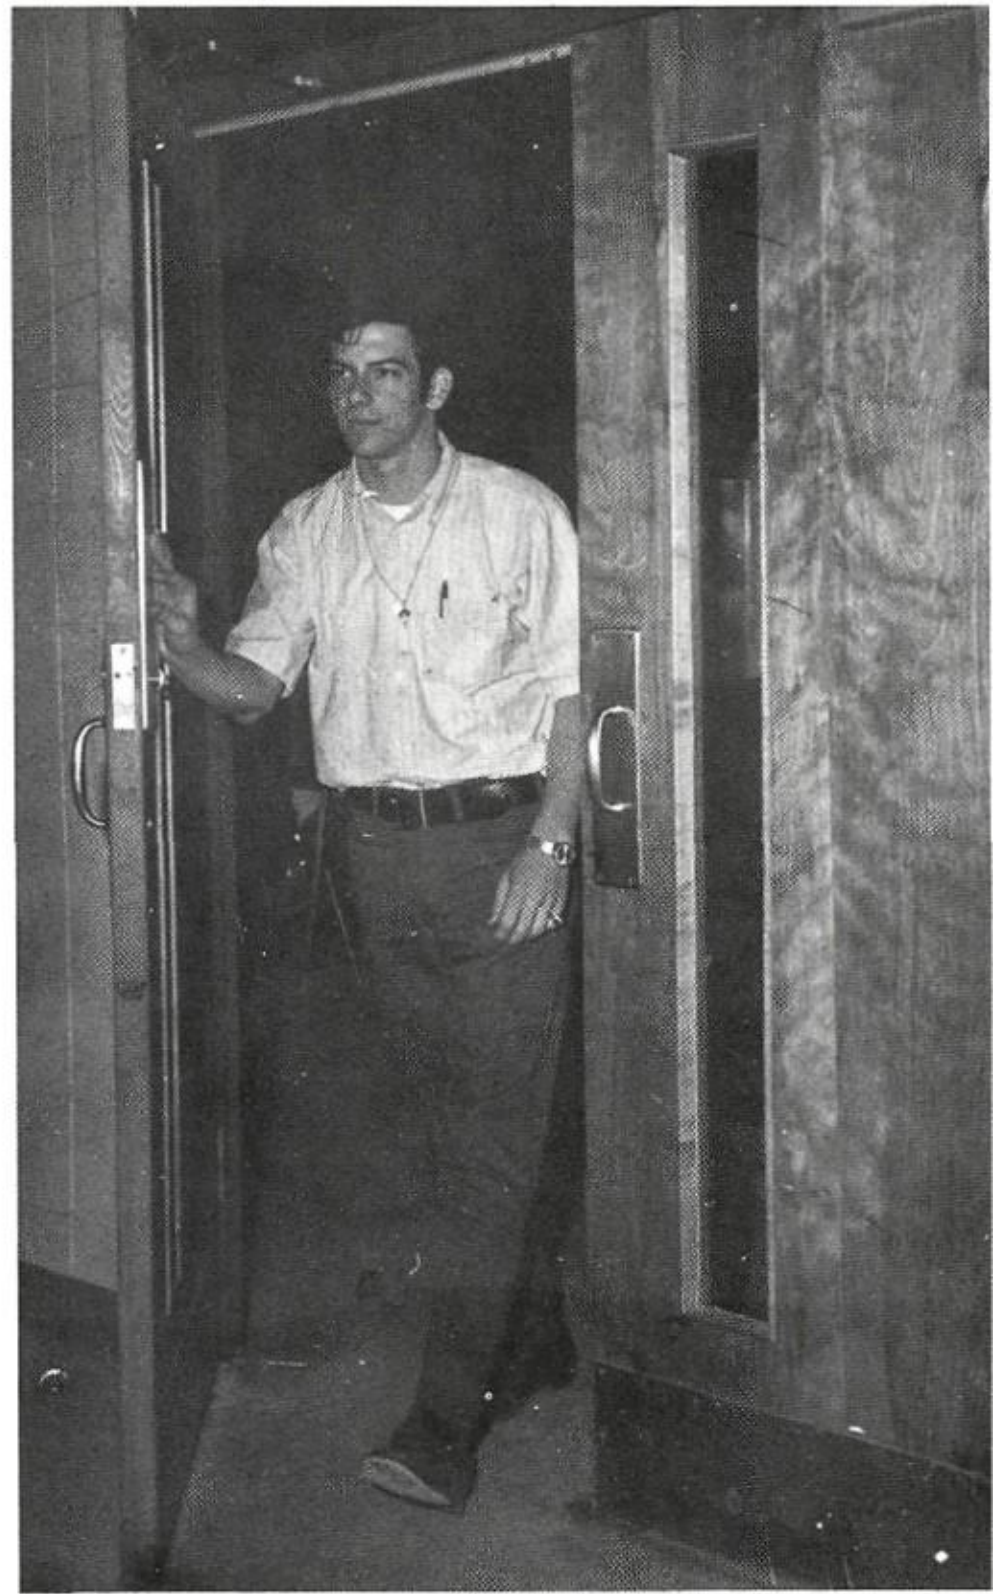

Curtain time; getting to know one another; receiving and admiring the senior pin, symbol of twelve years' work; discussing the serious and the humorous situations; gathering for the pep rally; tuning to the "now" sounds; exchanging gossip and ideas; preparing for a performance under the big lights of Martin Field; and buying a copy of the Saga are all times when excitement seethes, sometimes apparent, sometimes only felt.

THE MANY PRODUCE THE FEW

The solemn, massive strength of the Lowndes High building, sitting firmly in the soil of South Georgia tradition, is the home of the school that nurtures future generations who must, as the young pines, find their places in the sun. Already acclaimed for their leadership qualities are Philip Poole, who opens the door to opportunities as state treasurer of the Georgia Key Clubs. Bruce Green, who displays the Georgia Jaycee Good Citizen Award presented him by the House of Representative's Majority Leader Hale Boggs; Daniel Parker who serves as state Parliamentarian of DECA and represented his fellow classmates at the National Leadership Convention in Texas; and Carolyn Irvin, whose appointment by State Schools Superintendent Jack Nix to the State Youth Communication Council added to her many activities during the school year. These are the most newsworthy of the many prominent students who could be seen leaving the building where they began to grow so tall.

AND

CURRICULUM

COUNTY ADMINISTRATION PROVIDES LEADERSHIP FOR CURRICULUM CHANGES

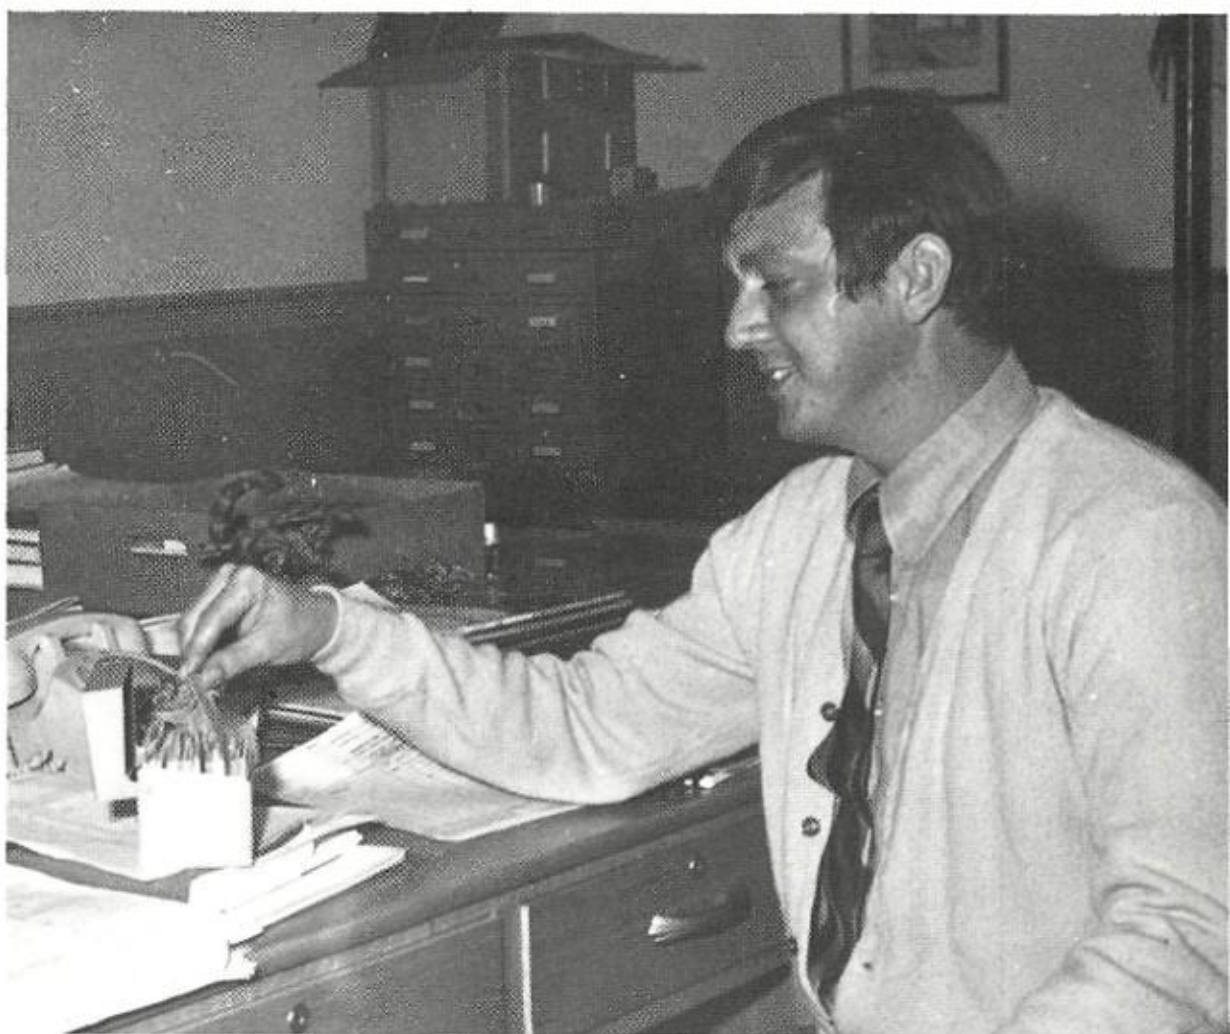

Mrs. Susan Pollock, Mrs. Barbara Milhous, Mrs. Nancy Blanton, Mrs. Judy Ziegler (not shown), and Miss Irene Brown, secretaries in the superintendent's office, willingly assist students and teachers.

(Below) Board members, Dr. R. K. Winston, Mr. Jerome Webb, Mr. L. M. Tomlinson, and Board Chairman, Mr. George Moulton, confer with Mr. A. B. Martin, Superintendent. Mr. Martin and board members were luncheon guests of the LHS Creative Foods class. Mr. T. M. Bland, board member, was not present.

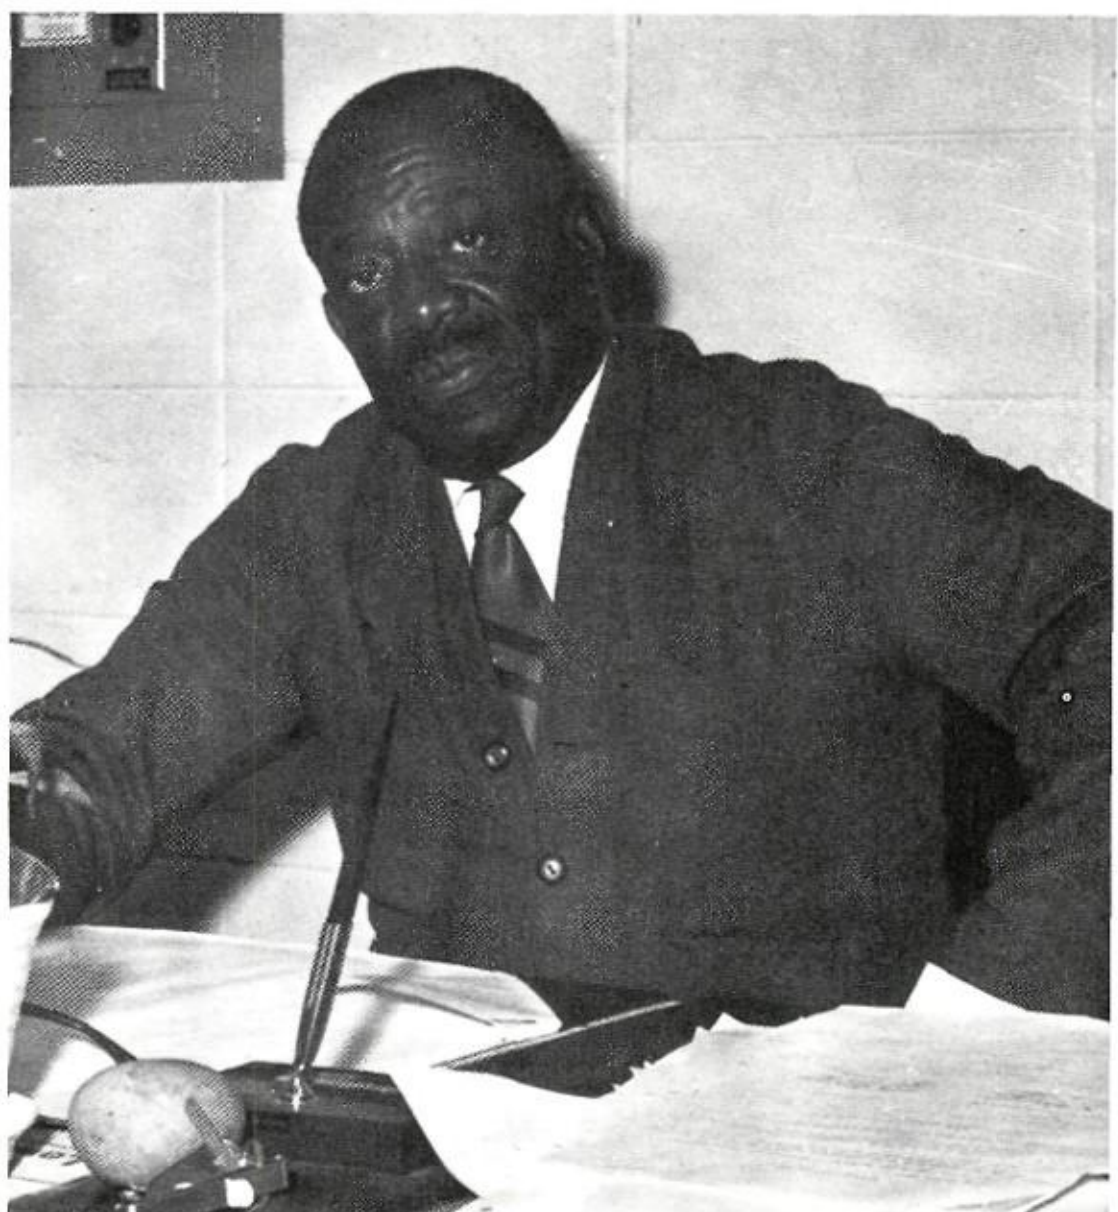

Mr. Jesse Griffin, (left), school system purchasing agent, leaves the school after discussing a purchase order with the school secretary. Curriculum director, Mr. James Goolsby, (bottom left) files materials to be used in the quarter curriculum. Mrs. Ann McDonald (below), lunchroom supervisor, discusses menu changes. School Psychologist, Mr. John Vance, (bottom), chooses testing methods to be used in the Lowndes School Systems.

QUARTER SYSTEM DICTATES JOBS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Principal T. H. Wall (right) sits in his chair beside the microphone that connects him to every corner of Lowndes High and its celebrated, many-faceted programs. The principal's relaxed attitude here does not belie the stern approach whenever it is needed. Mr. William Haynes (bottom left) and Mr. Paul Hughes (bottom right), assistant principals, are usually on the go seeing that rules are obeyed and that students move from place to place with purpose. The plant on Mr. Hughes' desk suggests the many he is responsible for in beautifying the grounds near the sprawling school building. Mr. Haynes' cigar represents the apparently calm demeanor that students meet in the halls.

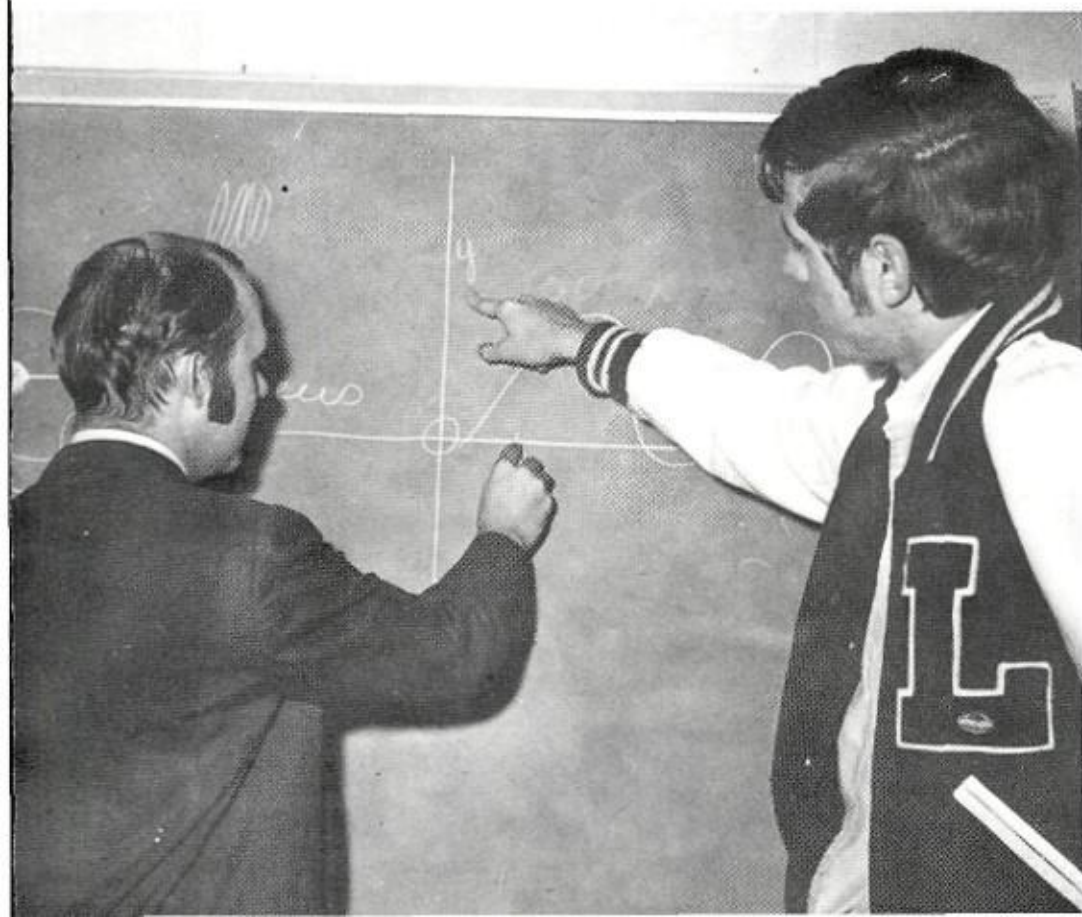

The quarter system, new to Lowndes this year, with new courses created by dedicated work of all faculty members and curriculum directors produced answers and problems, some of which concerned scheduling and counseling, the special concern of Mr. Jerry Edwards, Mrs. Francis Collins, and Mr. Bunnis Williams (left). Together they look at the continually important student schedule files.

So much necessary work in keeping a school running smoothly occurs in the office not the classroom. Mrs. Sarah Cothron (center) is the hub of such activity and stands here between Mrs. Betty Ruth Gaskins, audio-visual clerk, and Mrs. Wilma Rich who assists in the scheduling office that also handles so many practical student problems.

With the quarter system came new courses of study and procedures. Mr. Frederick McLeod, math department chairman, explains the solution of a problem to Bill Haire.

FACULTY

Apparently all alone, but this student (right) has found intriguing company in the pages of his literature book. Mrs. Jimmy Lee Wall (below), Librarian, explains to a student the significance of the cards in the card catalogue. Mr. Tye Engram (bottom) seems pleased with the birthday cake he receives from the Junior Tri-Hi-Y Club. Mr. Engram is the chairman of the English Department as well as the sponsor of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y.

Mrs. Corinne Coleman, English.

FACULTY

Mr. Earl Coleman (right) D. C. T. Coordinator, holds one of the numerous sheets of paper, which represent the unseen work that makes a study-work program run smoothly. Mr. Phillip Walden (below) looks through a student's file as he confers with one of unseen but aspiring students who work in the outside world. Mr. Walden is the Distributive Education Coordinator. Grades are important in physical education, as one would suppose from the expression on Coach Charles Cooper's face (below) as he prepares to tell a student the good or bad news found in the gradebook he holds. Coach Cooper is Athletic Director at Lowndes. Total involvement is the objective of the students and teacher in drama and glee club. Mrs. Dorothy Carter (right) demonstrates that total enthusiasm. Not too long from the time this picture was snapped that delicious smells drifted from the Home Economics Department where Mrs. Margaret Okerson (bottom right) has taught so many to prepare gourmet meals.

Mr. Andy

Students (left) do attend their teachers as these thinking poses suggest. Creativity and splashes of vivid color produce an atmosphere of congenial but individual production in the art department that Mrs. Hilda McElvey (center) so smoothly oversees. Pleased satisfaction shines from Mr. Billy Martin's face (below). His band performed well this year. Mrs. Dorothy Carter (far left) displays feeling as she demonstrates a gesture for a character in one of the plays presented by her drama department.

PERSONNEL ARE VITAL TO SCHOOL OPERATION

Mrs. Farmer, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Cannington, Mrs. Hardee, Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Combass, and Mrs. Dees, lunchroom workers, pose after serving time is over.

Mr. Earnest Wilson, Mr. Marvin Byrd and Mrs. Fanny Roberts get days assignments from Mr. John Bennett, maintenance head.

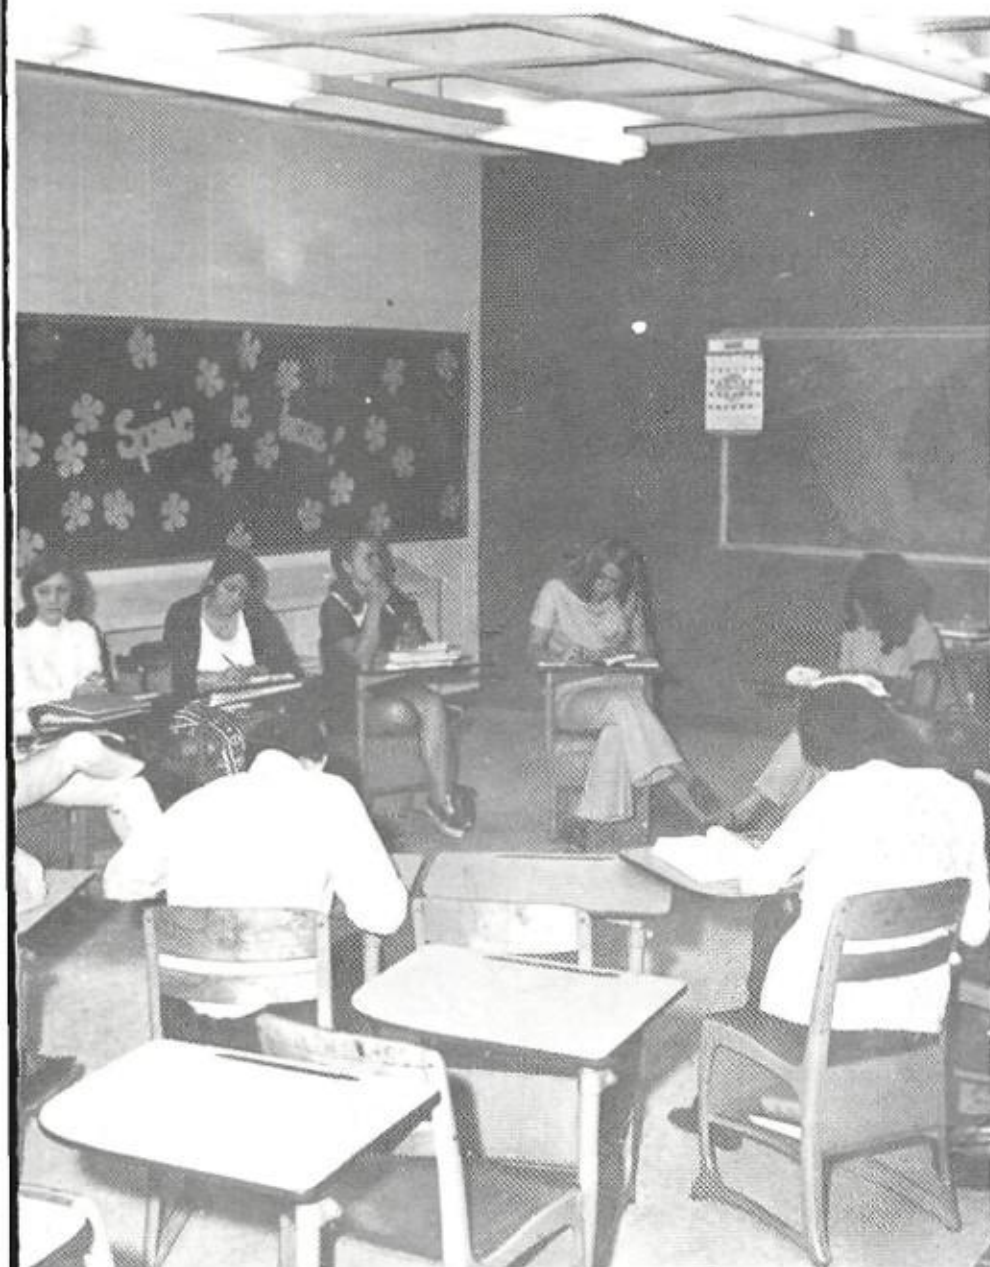

QUARTER SYSTEM BRINGS CURRICULUM CHANGES

The curriculum at Lowndes High is a varied, but thorough program. This gives the students a chance to choose the fields that best suit them.

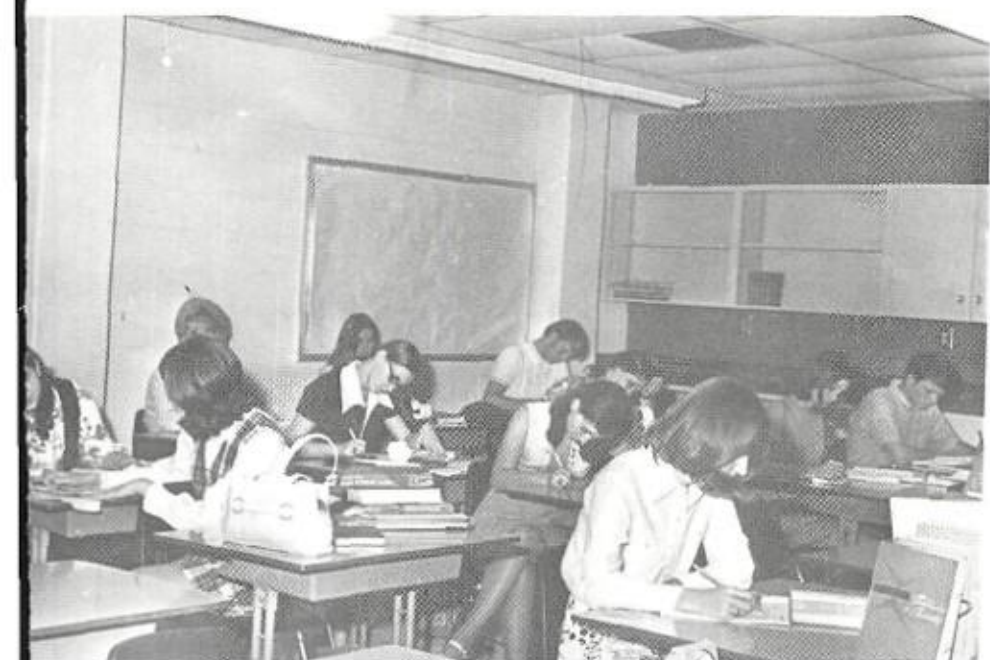

Under the quarter system each subject is divided into parts. This is so the students can study the part of the course that interests them and more time can be spent on it.

More visual aides are being used in the quarter system. The students can learn more from the course because of this, and they find it more interesting.

CLASSES

SENIORS LOOK FORWARD TO GRADUATION

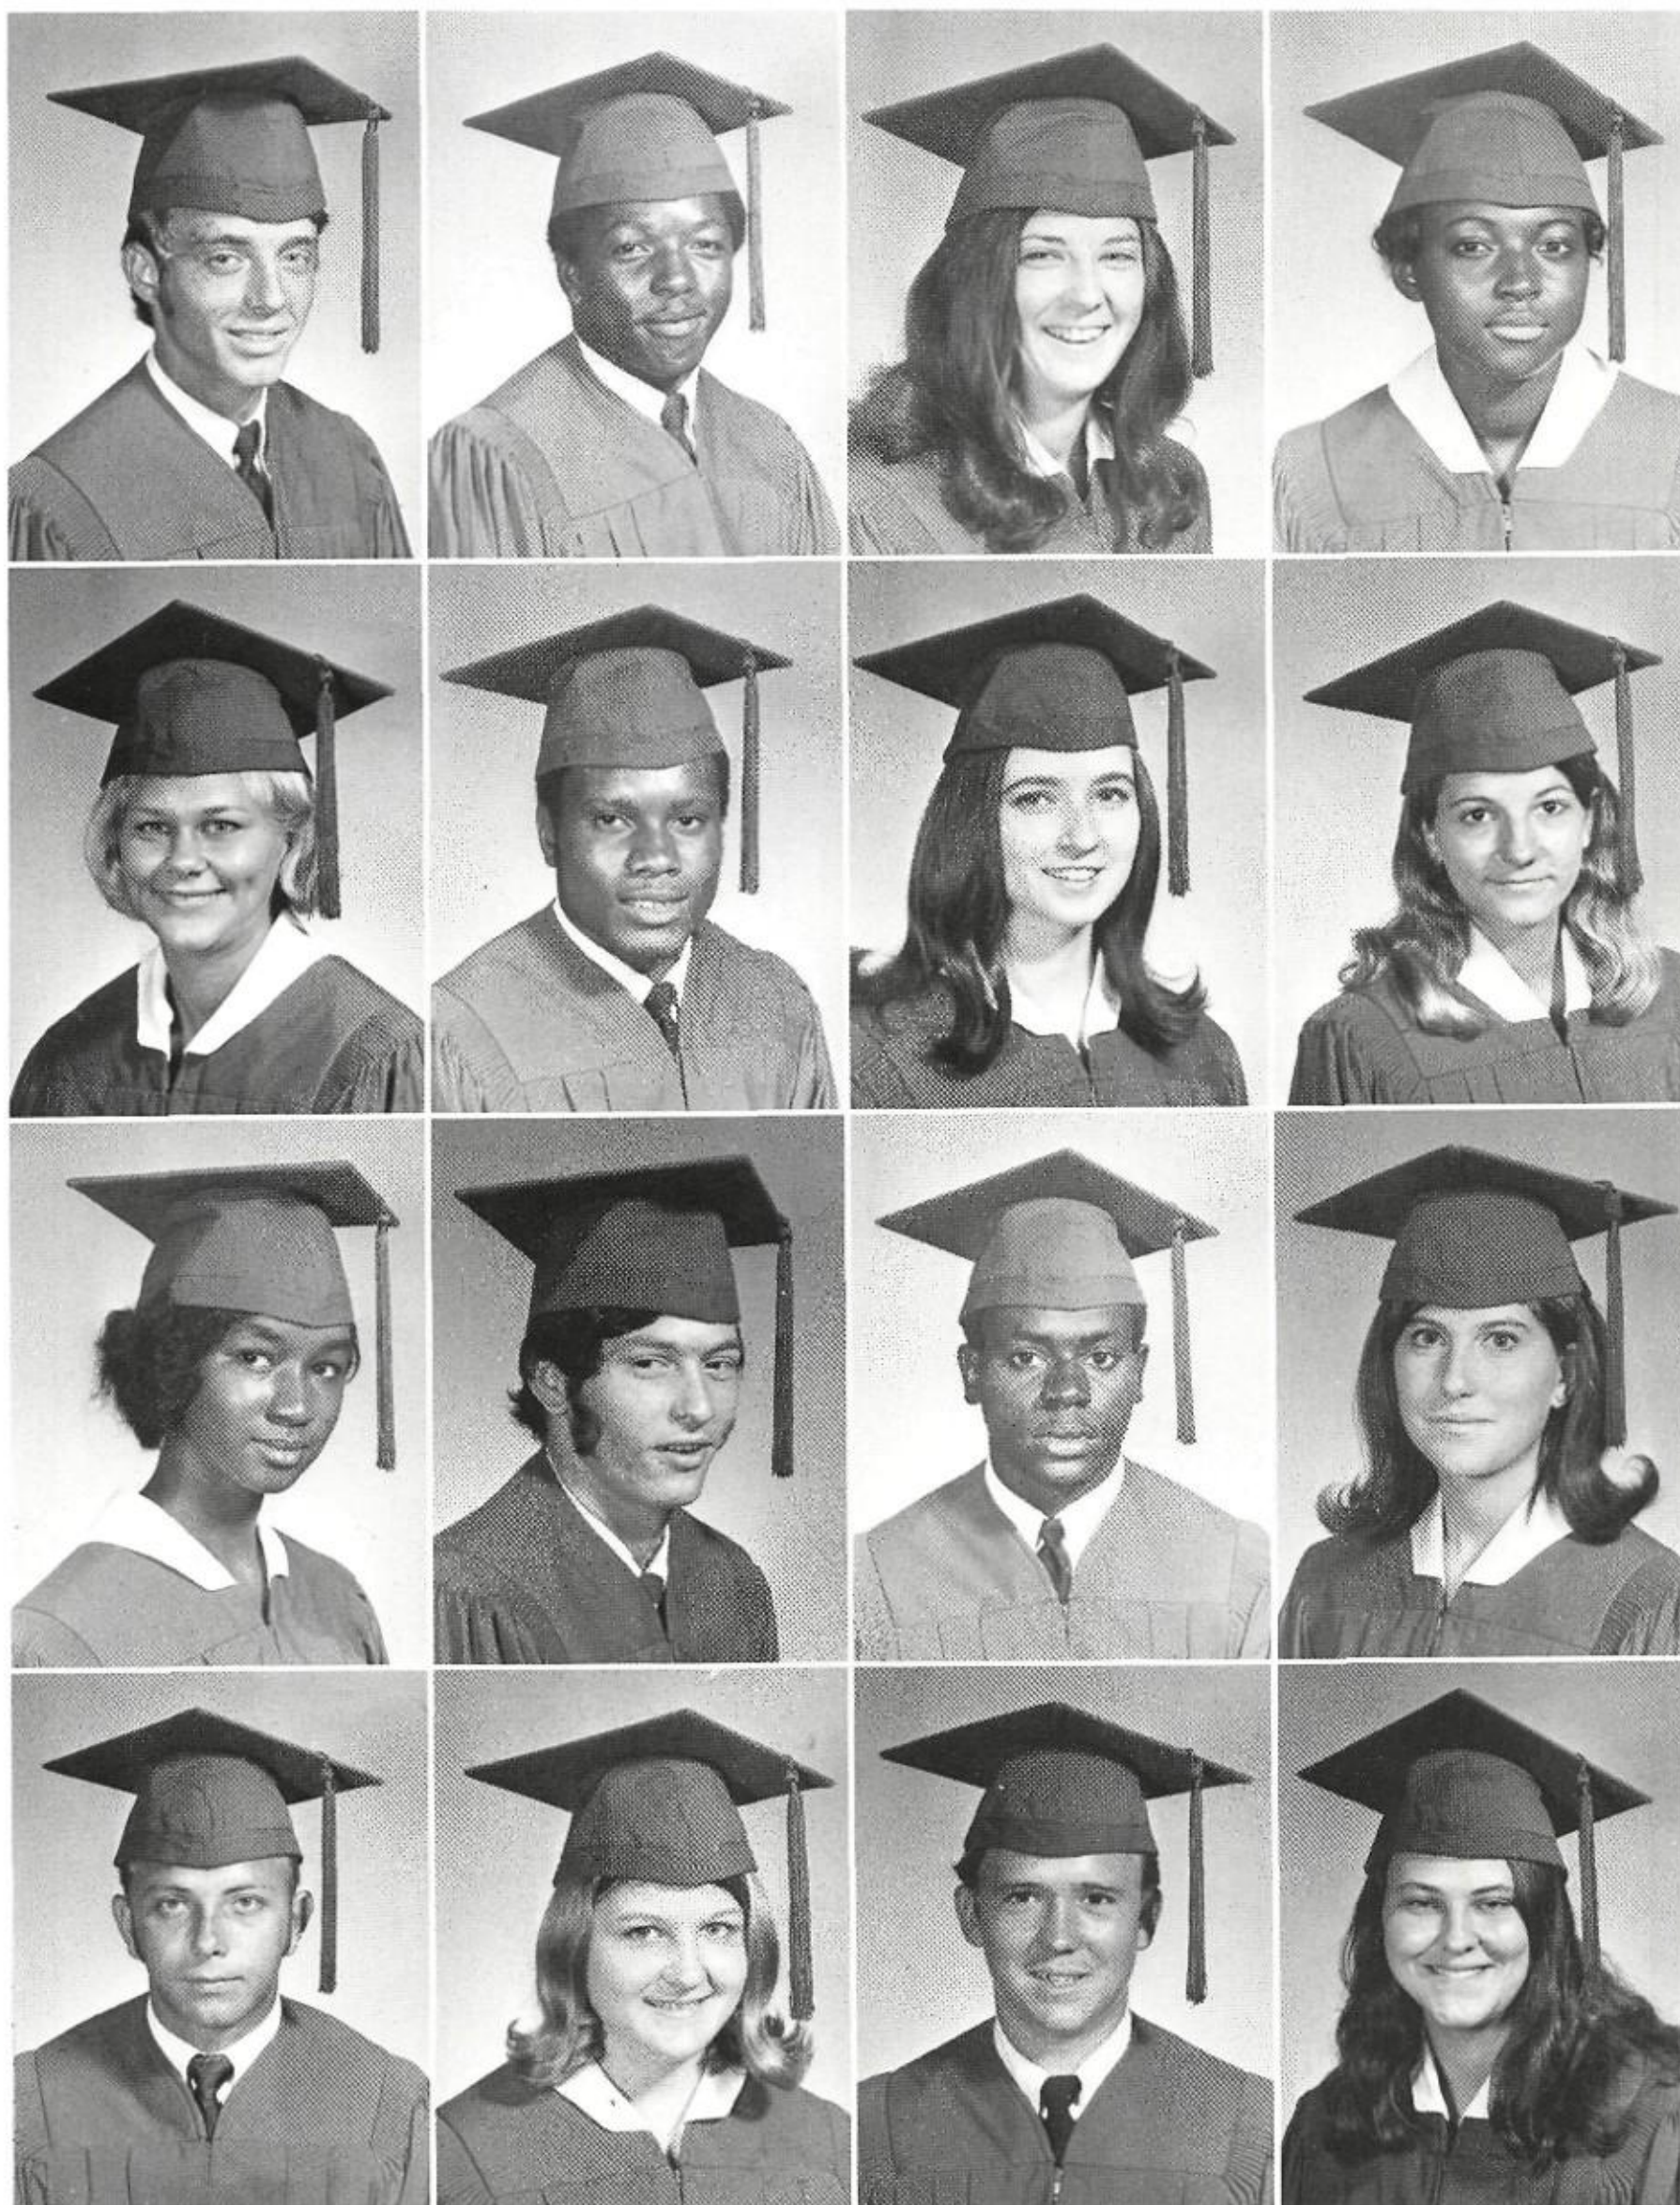

Seniors have the pleasure of giving the Juniors a Spring Ball. This dance is in honor of Juniors receiving class rings and of Juniors soon to become Seniors.

Ordering caps and gowns and other graduation accessories is an exciting time during the Senior year. Seniors realize that their high school years are almost over and soon they will discover an all new world. A saying by Hotchins expresses fully the way Seniors feel: "We are but one step away from greatness and before the rest of the world knows it, we are going to take that step . . . "

SOPHOMORE CLASS STRIVES TO BECOME BETTER VIKINGS

It is a frightening but challenging experience when Sophomores walk through the doors of Lowndes High for the first time. They are not quite sure what is ahead of them. One thing that sophomores know is coming is Thrall Week. This is a time when Seniors buy Sophomores as their slaves or thralls. The final phase of initiation is Thrall Court where thralls must answer to charges made by seniors. Now that they are Vikings, sophomores can channel their interest to other activities, such as sports and lessons.

ACTIVITIES

DEDICATION IS EVIDENT IN WORK OF MUNIN STAFF

The Munin Staff works hard all year in preparing a yearbook in which the students can take pride. The staff has a well-equipped darkroom and adequate camera equipment to enable student photographers to make, develop and print many of the pictures used in the MUNIN. The staff begins work before school opens in the summer and continues all year. They conduct an advertising campaign and a sales campaign.

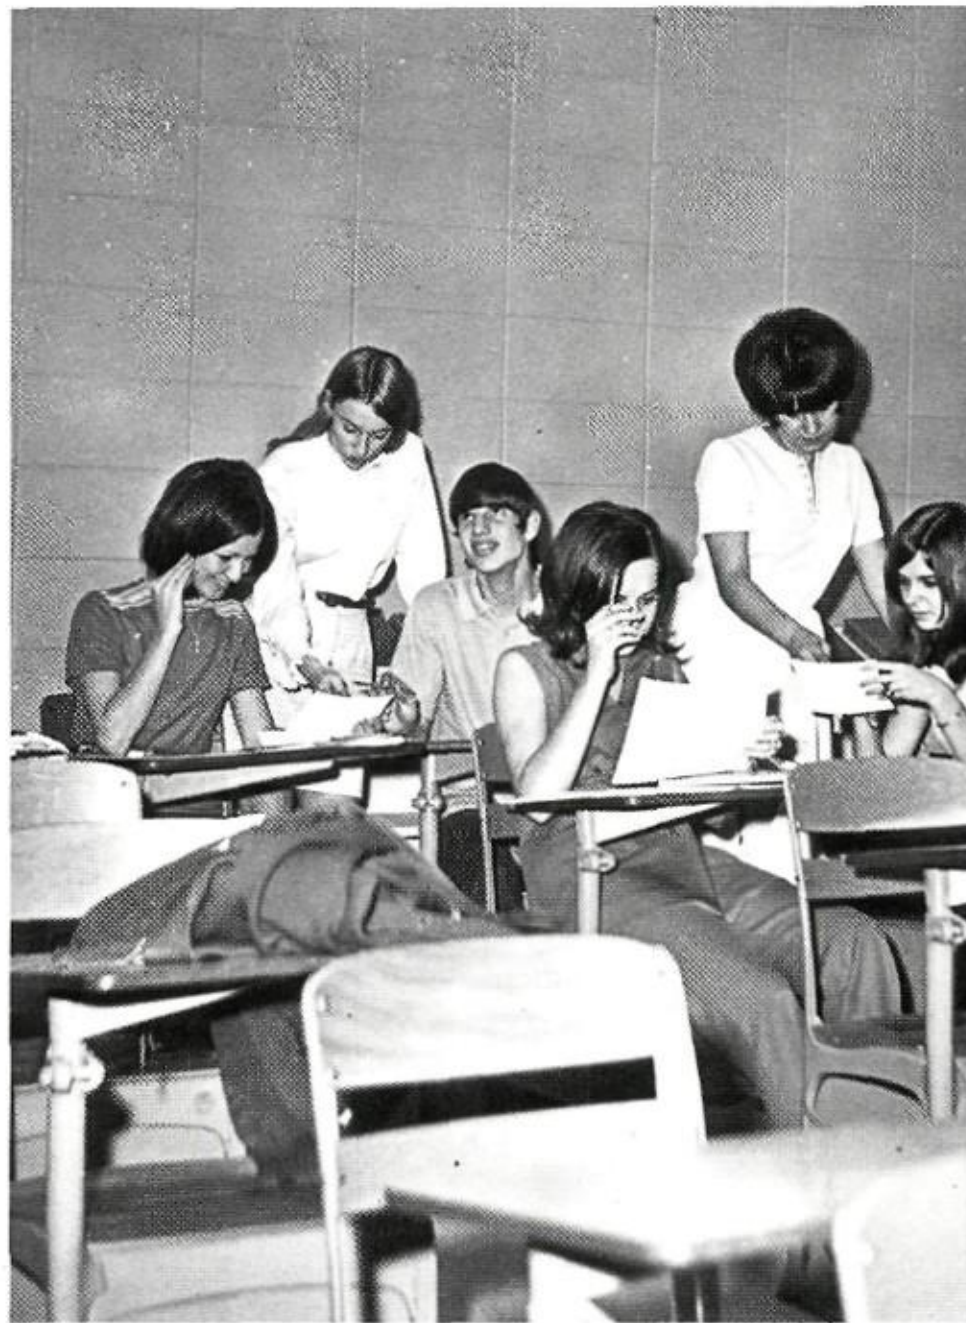

The staff is composed of students in grades ten through twelve who elect to take the yearbook course.

Editor, Jane Coleman, and Assistant Editor, Pat Cribb, work together on planning the annual.

Mark Pickern, Johnny McElvey, John Quarterman, and Brent Merriman mix materials needed for printing pictures in the darkroom.

Dani Martin and Janice Damon help Melba Lunsford, Andy Fletcher, Sandra Wilson, and Judy Smith with their pages.

MEMBERS: Janice Damon, Brent Merriman, Kathy Rich, Mark Pickern, Snadra Wilson, John Quarterman, Andy Fletcher, Dani Martin, Linda Sturdivant, Ralph McCrary, Floyd McNeal, Pat Cribb, Jane Coleman, Randy Folsom, Eric Burnett.

Mrs. Adams, sponsor, checks over annual pages.

Kathy Rich and Edith Davis give Linda Sturdivant some instructions on typing their pages.

New photographers, Floyd McNeal, Randy Folsom, Ralph McCrary, and Eric Burnett study one of the cameras.

Munin staff eats lunch at Pizza Hut the day they sold ads for the annual.

EXCELLENT PRODUCTIONS ARE CREATED BY INTEREST IN DRAMA

This year the drama department at Lowndes presented four plays. The one act play "The Doctor In Spite of Himself" won first place in the region 1AAA competition and was presented at the South Eastern Theatrical Conference in Columbus. "A Raisin In the Sun" was the first play presented at Lowndes with an all-Negro cast. "Blue Denim" is a play about a young girl who had an abortion and it showed the many problems of young adults. This play was the first play to be presented as a Sunday Matinee. "The Crucible" was a play about the Salem witch trials. This play ended the 1971 drama season.

Abigail Williams (San Dee Pointz) threatens her cousin, Betty Parris (Candice Benton) for pretending to be under the spell of witchcraft in the play, "The Crucible."

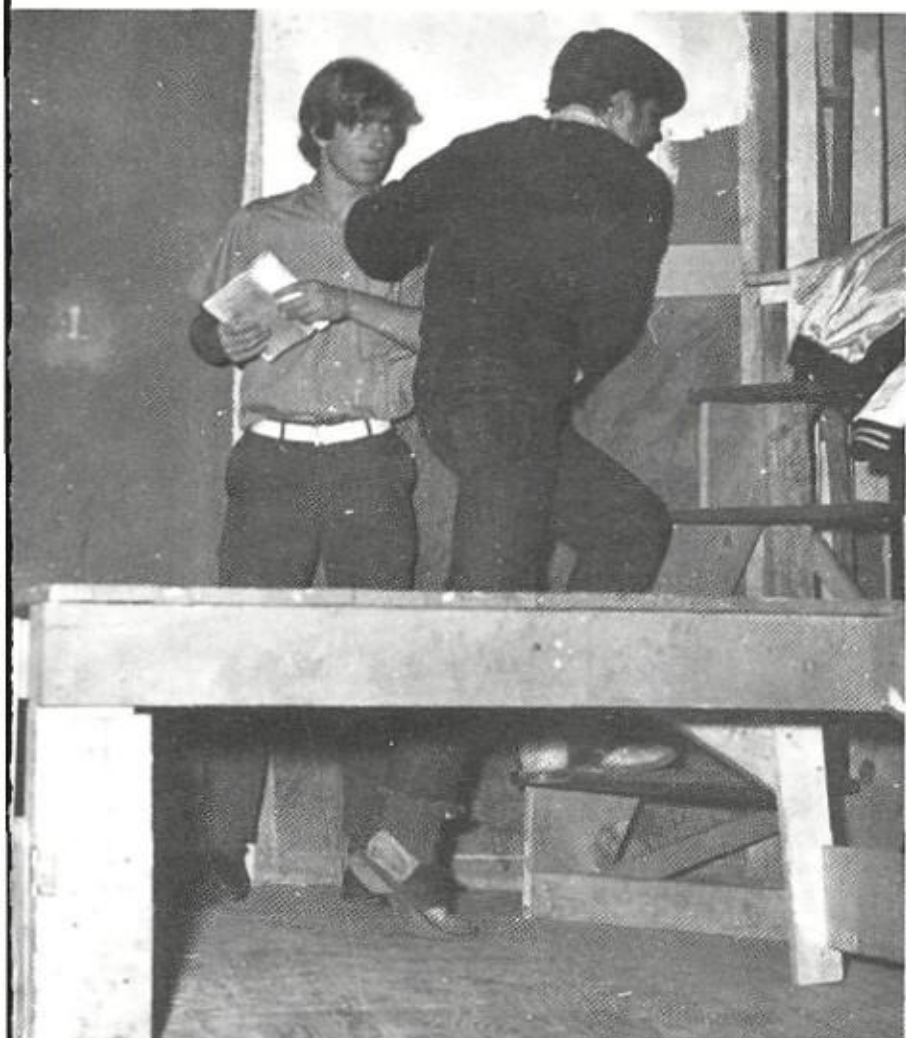

Mr. Cloud and Terry Head help with John Winston's make-up for "Blue Denim." (Right) Walter Foster, as Walter Younger in "A Raisin in the Sun" rushes out of the house in anger.

Rebecca Nurse (Ann Rampley) and Reverend Parris (Danny Roberson) listen attentively to what Reverend Hale (Gary Waldron) reads about witchcraft in "Blue Denim."

Danny Roberson (Ernie) and Allen Pensol (Arthur) rehearse for the play, "Blue Denim." (Right) Sganarelle (Allen Pensol) and Maxtine (Terry Head) engage in another of their usual fights in "The Doctor in Spite of Himself."

Major Bartley (John Winston) holds an unsuccessful discussion of life with his son, Author (Allen Pensol) in "Blue Denim."

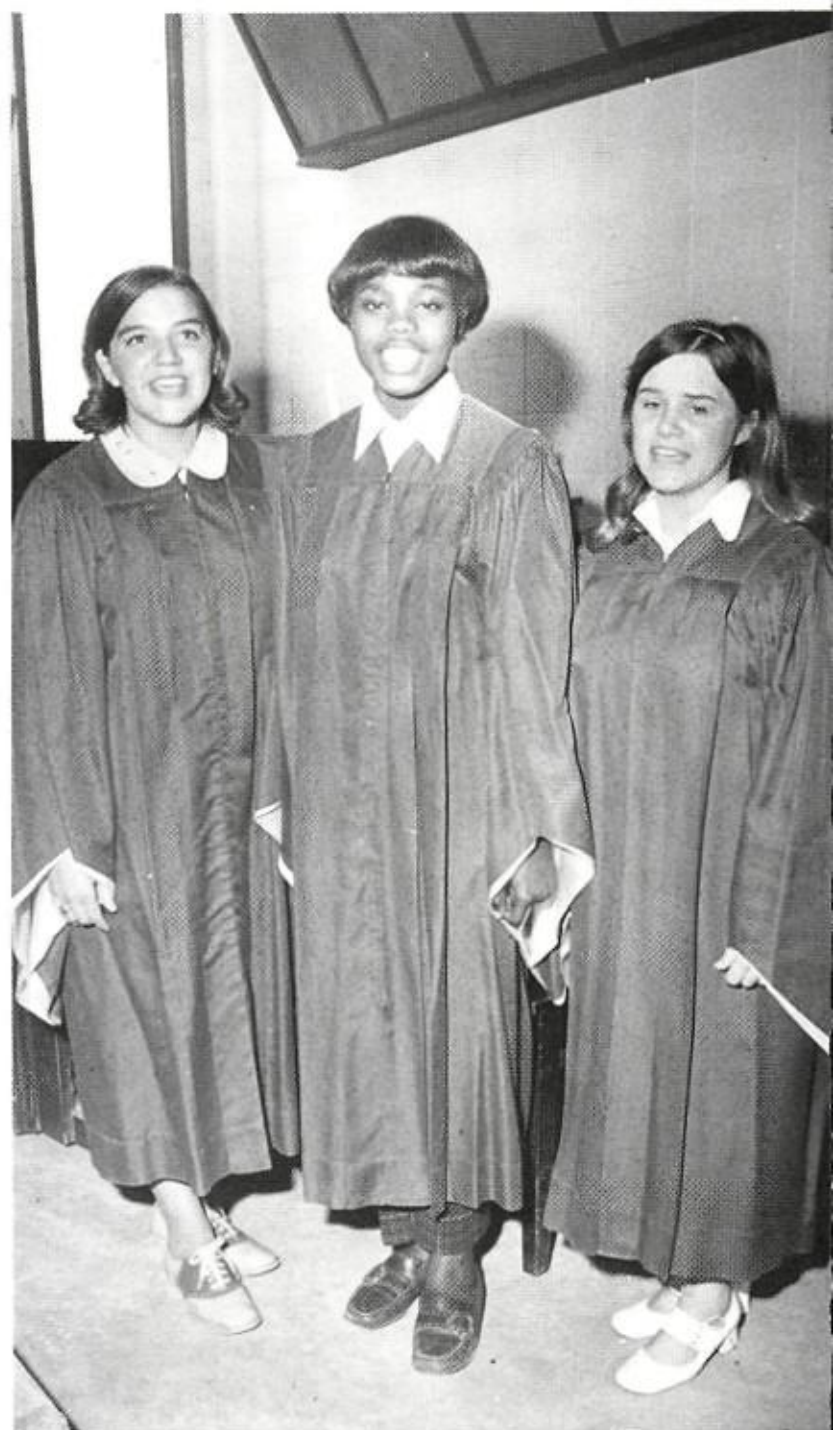

Walter Younger (Walter Foster), Mama (Shirley Smith), and Ruth Younger (Angela Lane) in a scene from "A Raisin in the Sun."

SAGA KEEPS STUDENTS INFORMED OF MONTHLY EVENTS

The Saga works to put out the monthly news at Lowndes High School. The members are at work on cutting heads for the paper. Layouts are made for each active part in the newspaper. The Saga Staff meets every day during fifth period to plan their paper.

COLLEGE BOWL AND DEBATE PLACE IN COMPETITION

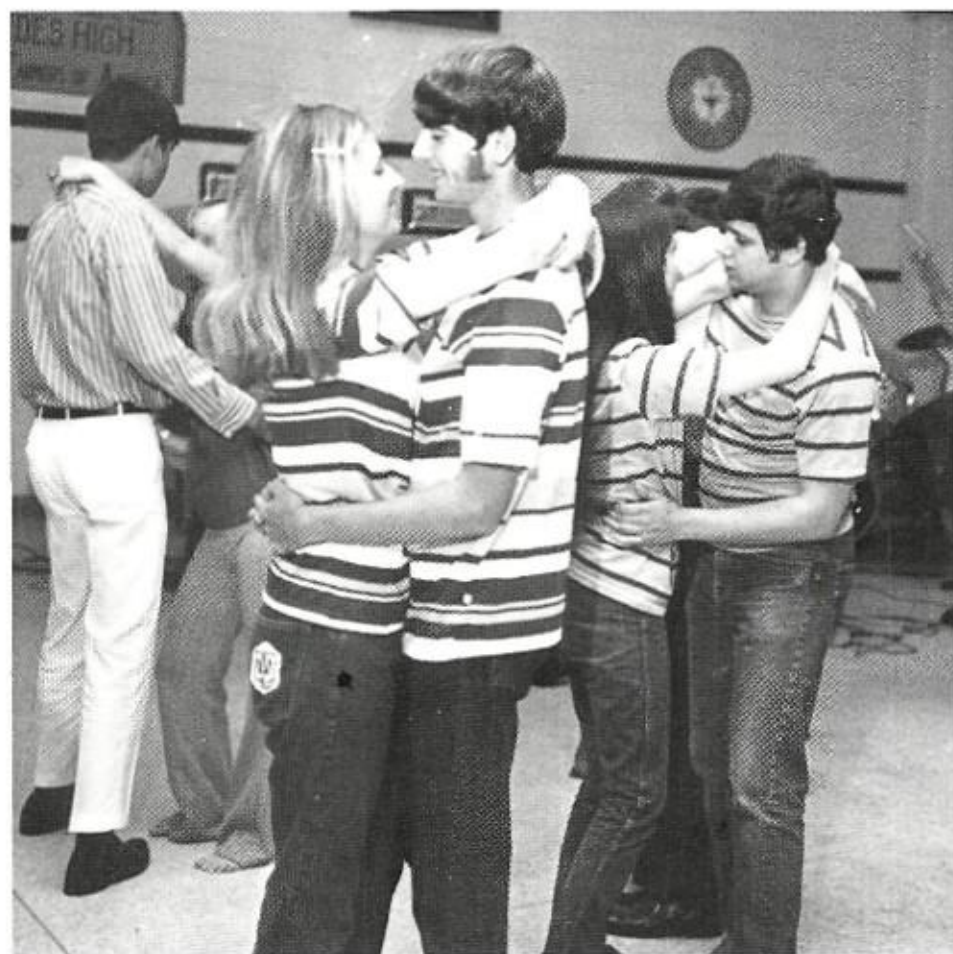

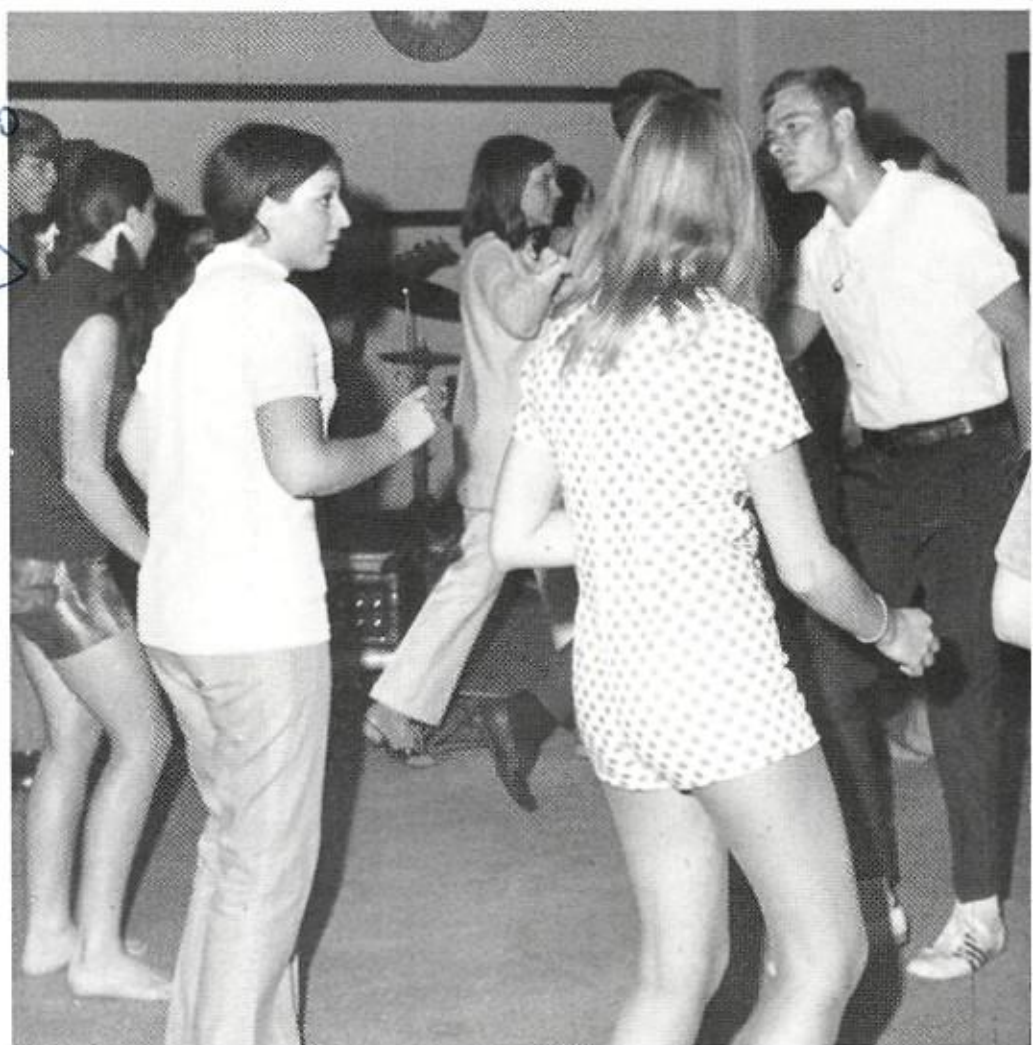

Larry Carter, Wayne Cowart, Don Lehman, Michael Spurlock, and Bobby Moore.

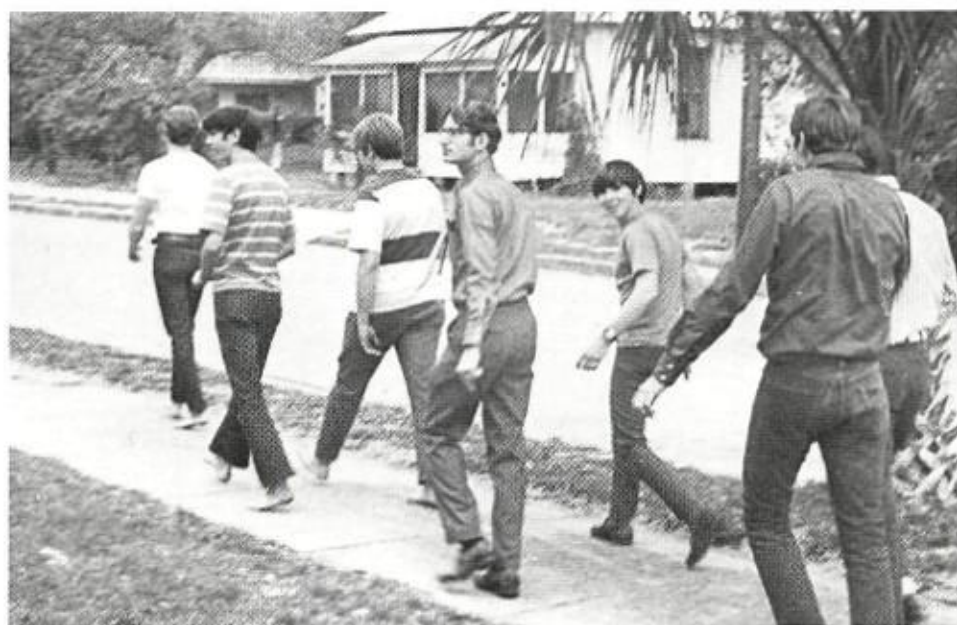

Phillip Poole, Mike Hernandez, Leslie Rosenthal, Terry Rosenthal, Bruce Wallace, and John Quarterman representing Lowndes High School in competition with nine other schools, the College Bowl team succeeded in winning three of its four contests. The single contest lost by the team was lost in an overtime session by only five points. Lowndes is proud of the accomplishments of this team.

JUNIORS HONOR SENIORS AT BAR-BE-QUE

This was Lowndes High's first informal banquet. The Juniors decided to have a Bar-be-que dinner and dance to the music of Joshua Mercy afterward. It was held in the school cafeteria.

BETA'S VARIED ACTIVITIES INDICATE AN ACTIVE CLUB

Randy Rogers, Jill Wisenbaker, Patti Cook, Gene Zeigler, and Sandra Flynt (right) are awaiting the arrival of fellow Beta members so that they may leave to go to the Atlanta Municipal Auditorium where the National Beta Club Convention was being held. Randy Rogers conducted a vigorous campaign for Vice-President but was defeated, while Carolyn Irvin won the state talent show singing "Alfie." Terry Rosenthal (center right) carries the Beta Colors and opens the annual Beta Club Horse Show. Beta members (bottom right) pause for a moment to observe the loading of an unseen pickup truck at the Troupville cemetery clean-up. Jane Coleman and Karen Drennon (bottom) with the aid of Mr. Gary Cloud paint the Beta Homecoming exhibit. It is a ship's hull with a dragon head that covers the entrance to the football dressing rooms. Barry Puett and Jane Coleman (below) sell a pound cake to a happy shopper. The cake sale is one of the Beta Club's many fund raising projects.

Patti Cook, Jill Wisenbaker, and Libby Odom (left) register eighth district Beta members at the eighth district convention held here. District officers (below) seem to be amazed at their good fortune of being chosen eighth district officers. Lowndes High officers, Carolyn Irvin, Secretary; Mr. Powell, Sponsor; Lynne Kannon, Chaplain; Terry Rosenthal, President; Glenn Pinholster, Vice-President; and Mamie Stalvey, Treasurer; are concerned with the Beta Club's future at Lowndes High. VIKING CLUB SERVES SCHOOL

The Viking Club was organized to give interested students the opportunity to work in the concession stand during football and basketball games. These students, along with interested parents, are able to serve their school in this way. The name, Viking Club, in itself shows the true spirit of its members.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION CLUB IS ASSET TO SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY

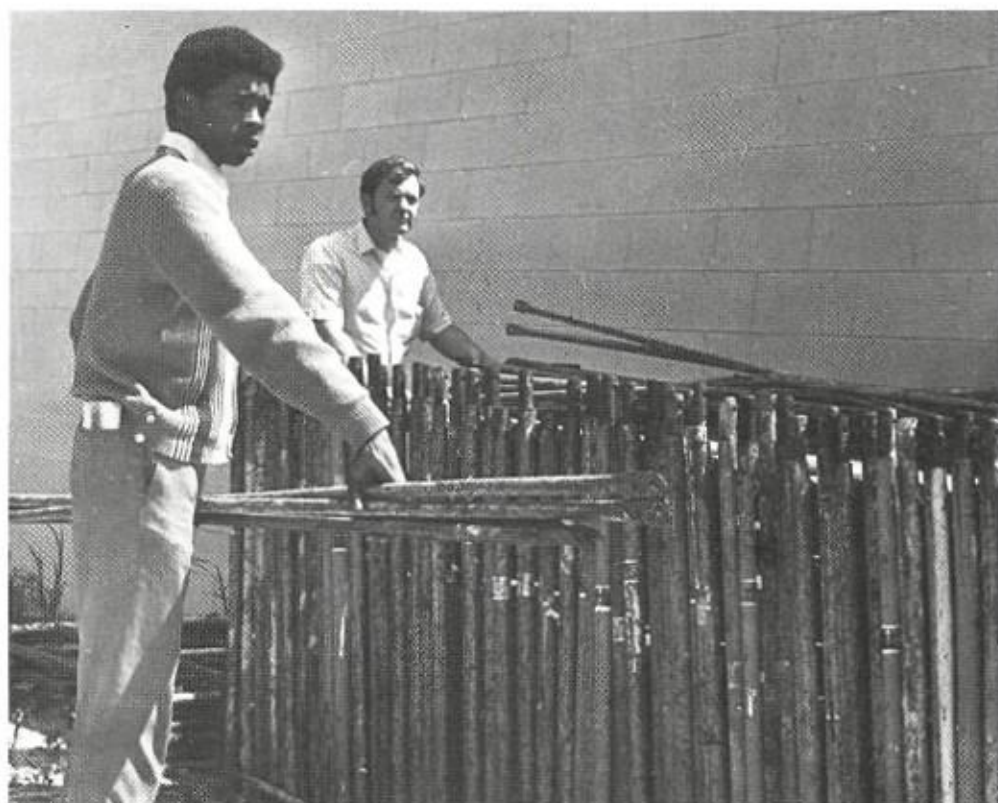

The Vocational Education Club is a club dedicated to the purpose of helping students train in skills they wish to pursue. Each member, upon entering the club, makes a pledge to abide by the club's rules and to try to benefit by it.

Many of the students are employed in jobs throughout Valdosta. Some work at jobs within our school. These people are given the opportunity to gain work experience for their future.

PEP CLUB SHOWS SPIRIT THROUGH WORK

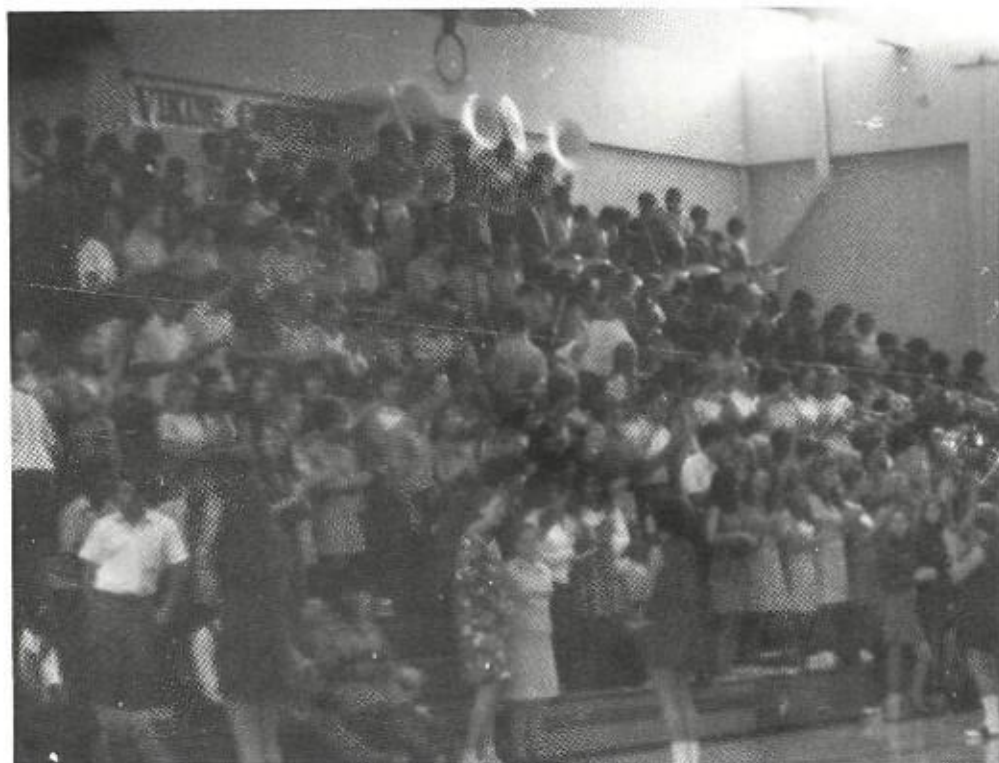

Pep Club is a very useful and spirited club. They raised money by selling shakers and spirit buttons. The money was used to buy art supplies to make posters for the games. At the Homecoming game, the Pep Club showed their spirit and support by presenting a card section. They also participated in the Spring Carnival by sponsoring a booth.

THESPIAN CLUB PROMOTES

The Thespian club is strictly for International Thespian members. To become an International Thespian a drama student must earn at least ten points by participating in drama activities. A Thespian can become an honor Thespian by earning at least sixty points. This year the Thespian Club participated in the Spring Carnival by having a Haunted House. Some of the characters seen were witches, ghosts, Dracula, and people caught in the torture chamber.

Thespians take part in ushering, selling tickets and advertising for every play that is presented by the Drama Department.

Mr. Gary Cloud leads new Thespian members in Thespian pledge during initiation. Being initiated are Debi Guest, Jeff Coppage, Wayne Cowart, Anny Rampley, Larry Carter, and Sidney Fletcher.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS LEARN SKILLS FOR TOMORROW

The FHA consists of girls interested in learning home-making skills. During the year they have various projects related to these skills.

The requirement for being a member of Senior FHA is that the student has had Home Ec. I. This is so the girls will be acquainted with their duties as homemakers.

This year the FHA sold cookbooks and candy to raise money. The money is to be spent on various items needed by the school and club.

FHA members, Pam Adams, Sue Blanchard, and sponsor, Mrs. Okerson, give Sarah Tate a baby shower.

FHA members, Glenda Carter and Sylvia Yehl, sell cookbooks to Debbie Carter and Bob Moore.

GUIDANCE COUNCIL ASSISTS FELLOW STUDENTS

The Guidance Club consists of people elected from every homeroom. Their goal is to assist fellow students with problems they may have.

The information room by the guidance office was created by the Guidance Department. It contains booklets and leaflets about any colleges and vocational schools that students might be interested in.

College Night, held every year, is sponsored by the Guidance Council. Representatives from nearby colleges come so students are able to talk with the representative from the college in which they are interested. This event helps students in choosing their colleges.

LIBRARY CLUB LEARNS SKILLS TO ASSIST STUDENTS

The Library Club was formed primarily for library assistants. These assistants aide Mrs. Wall and Mrs. Simmons with the duties involved in the upkeep of the library.

The duties of a library assistant range from putting books on the shelves to checking out books. In the back room the girls work with old magazines and newspapers.

The library could not run without the guidance and hard work of the librarians, Mrs. Wall and Mrs. Simmons. The librarians are always eager to serve the students in any way they can.

Sandra Taylor, Lisa Fountain, and Michelle Perron work in the back room of the library.

Librarians, Mrs. Wall and Mrs. Simmons, help Mary Clark Lily look up information in reference book.

JUNIOR TRI-HI-Y STAYS BUSY THROUGHOUT YEAR

The Jr. Tri-Hi-Y consists of girls interested in service for others. The activities of the Jr. Tri-Hi-Y this year have proved this to be true.

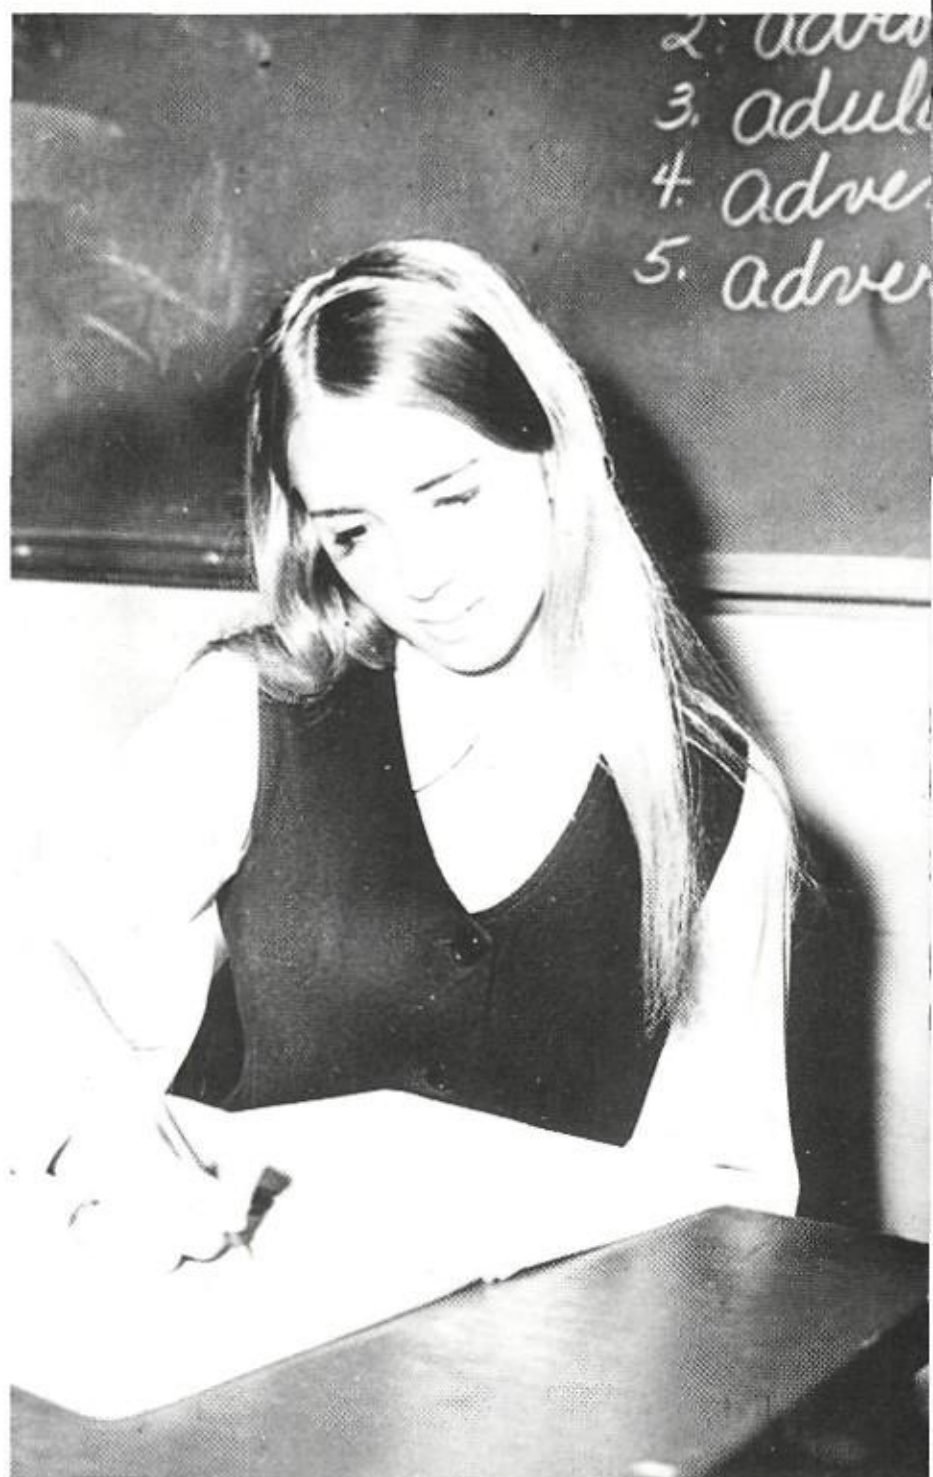

As a service to the school, the Tri-Hi-Y members raised money and presented it to Coach George for new football uniforms.

Later in the year the girls wrote letters to the boys at the Boys Ranch in Hahira.

At Christmas, the Tri-Hi-Y sent a gift box to the men in Viet Nam. They received a letter from one of the men thanking them for the box.

Our school has also been improved by the Tri-Hi-Y members. Earlier in the year a group of these girls cleaned the school parking lot.

SPORTS

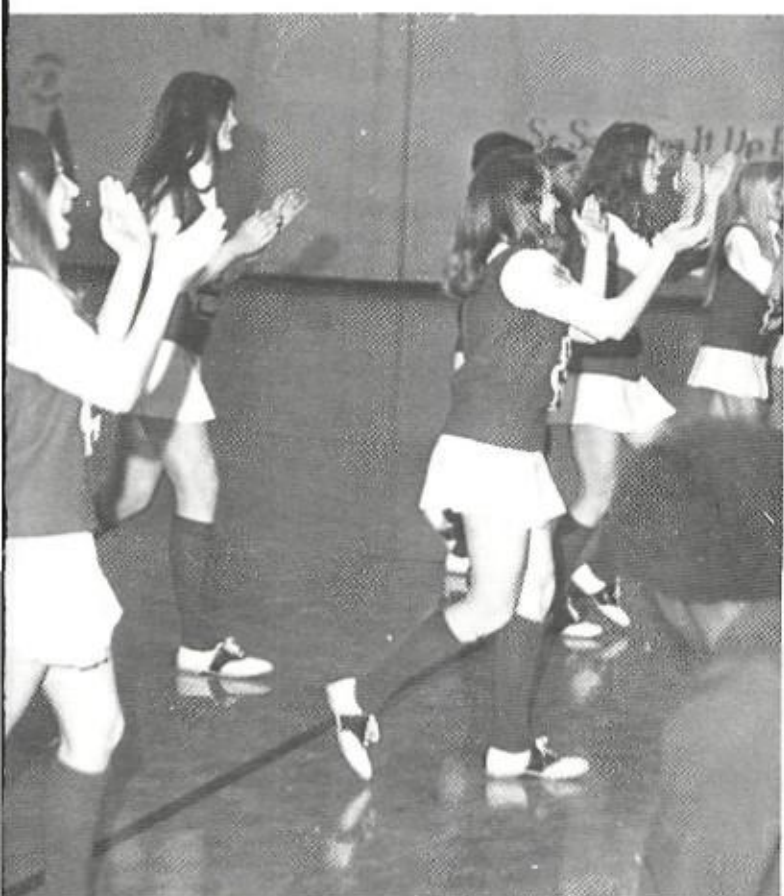

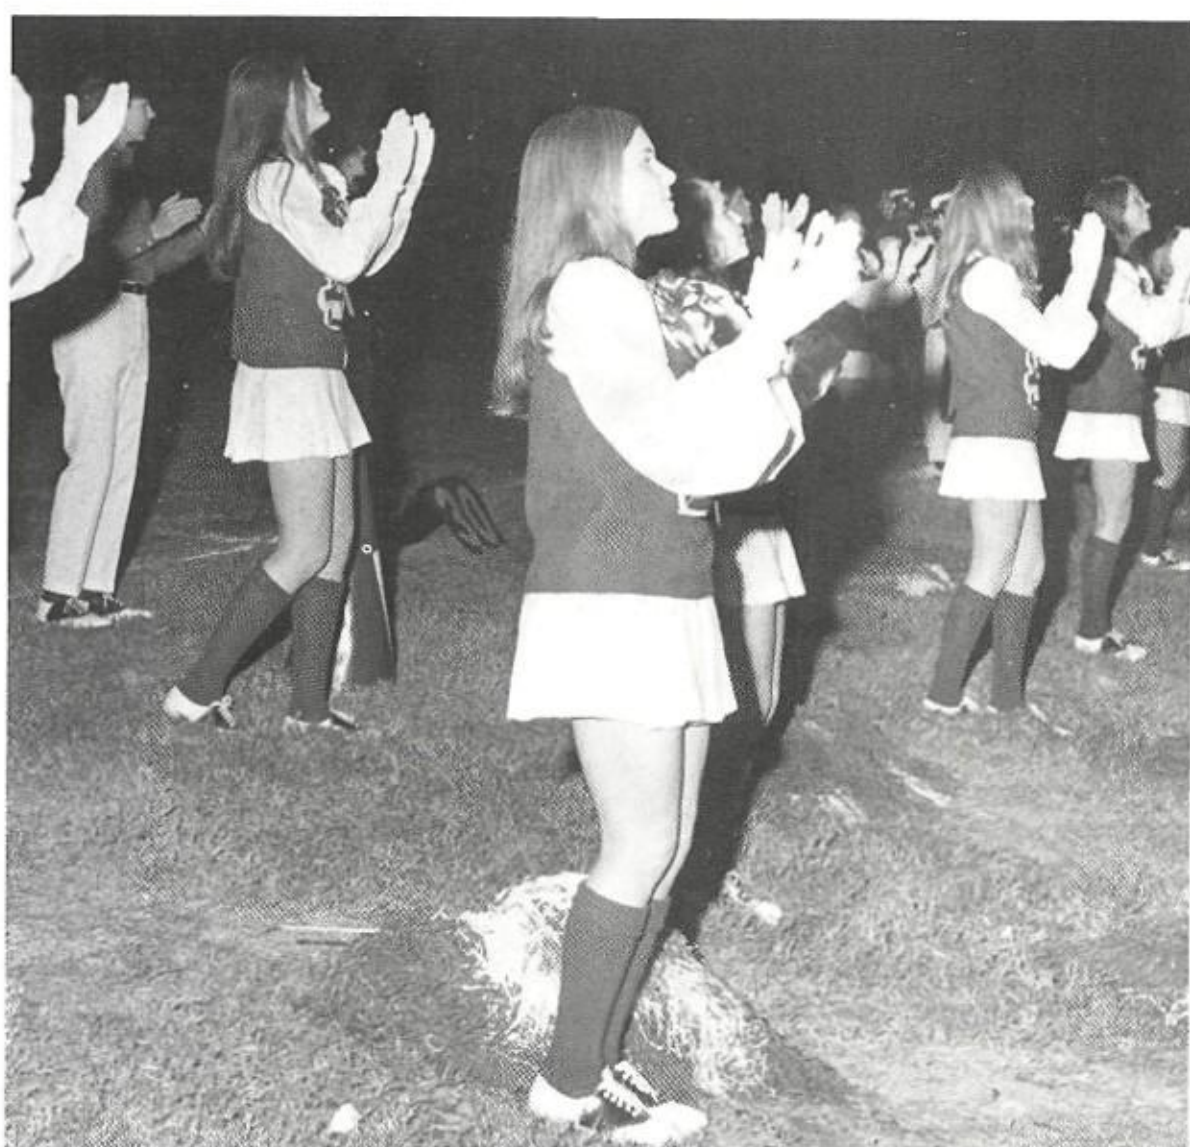

CHEERLEADERS HAVE ACTIVE YEAR

The year starts early for these 11 girls. First there were try-outs in the spring, then the practicing during the summer. Eight of the girls attended a cheering camp at Leesburg, Florida. Besides being cheerleaders, the girls also serve as hostesses for school events. They guide visitors around the school as well as help students. During football season the squad had four boys. The boys led chants and helped the girls on different jumps. These things along with a love for cheering made their year one of best.

Chris, Even though I've only known you my Soph. &
Junior years, I've learned what a truly wonderful person you are. You're different from most people, in that you have a special quality. You're true & it's seldom you find that special true-ness in a person.
May God Bless & keep you.

"12" PCB here
we come!!

Chris, it seems that it's taken more than only 12 years to get to be a senior. We're here now through and Panama City here we come. Also it's very hard to describe my feelings for such a dear friend. You're really easy going and I hope that our friendship will last for a long time. ↗ to a cute chick whom i have had the fortune to know...

love, don

Chris

Had lots of fun in Drama 'UP THE DOWN STAIRCASE'
And enjoyed knowing you in Art. It's really been nice knowing such a sweet and cute girl.
Lots of luck with you
and David.

Class "72" Pat Beagley

Excited

Time and also become a lot more warmer & closer. When the time comes to decide what's next it's hard but I'm sure you'll do it wise.

If you ever need a friend

To one of my really crazy friends, Chris,
we're really hard,
some would be drunk
times - remember the "fakes" with David and Jimmy - (Dance-in).
You'll have party good too! So - always & forever friends!
